Hymes Still Unbeaten, Skinner Being Defraited This Time-Ballou Proves Too Good for Ewing, White Libsire Goes Bown Before Bumstend-Dickey Loses.

The fifth round of the intercollegiate chess tournament yesterday brought about a change in the position of the competing colleges. Columbia still retains the lead by a reduced margin. Harvard ascended into second place. as the orange and black went down twice before the crimson. With 5% points to her credit, Harvard has a chance to come out ahead. or perhaps to tie in the case of her again defeating Yale, and Columbia losing 2 or 14 games to Princeton. This latter event, however, is not very likely. The nearer a tournament approaches its conclusion the more important becomes the result of each game. The young players seemed to recognize the truth fact for not less than three French Defences were adopted. Only Libaire, Columbia, ventured an open game, but he was not rewarded with success.

Hymes, Columbia, was again in fine form. Still, he did not propose to incur any risks. and adopted a safe French Defence. Skinner. Yale, advanced his king's nawn to king's fifth on his third move, whereupon Hymes made that pawn forthwith a target for his attack. that nawn forthwith a target for his attack, and in the seventeenth move the pawn fell. The Columbian then settled down to make good his numerical advantage, and finally managed to establish two passed pawns on the seventh row, which Skinner could only stop from queening at the expense of a rook. On the fittleth move, after 3 hours and 20 minutes of play, the Yale man resigned. The game: TABLE NO. 1.-PRENCH DEFENCE.

Ballou, Harvard, beat Ewing, Princeton, in brilliant fashion. The Jersey man played a French Defence, in the course of which Ballou spied an opportunity to sacrifice his king's bishop by taking the rook's town and checking. Ewing was forced to capture, else he would have been mated in a few moves. Flack's king was then driven out into the field, yet Ewing could have probably escaped all danger by playing P-k B 4 on his elevanth move. The move actually made, led to the loss of a rook, which left Rallou the exchange ahead and in a superior position. The Princetonian fought an upbill battle, but Pallou was not to be denied. On the forty-third move, after $\sigma$ hours of play, Harvard won the battle. The game: TABLE NO. 2.-PRENCH DEFENCE.

Bunstead, Vale, opened with a Scotch Gambit against Libaire, Columbia, who selected a very dangerous though theoretically correct defence, tamely, Q-15 on the fifth move. The young representative of Coumbia handled the carry part of the rame very cleverly, and came out a pawn ahead and in a good position. His elsewith move, however, was ill considered. Beinstead promptly took the rook's pawn with his bishop which Libaire dured not capture, as his king and queen wore both menaced by white's R-K sq. This evened up things as far as the number of pawns were concerned, though Columbia's game was yet preferable. The Vale man improved his position steadily by time play, and on the twenty-ninth move by sacrifice of his rook forced a mate in two. Libaire then resigned. The game:

THE COUNTRY CLUB'S SHOOT. Club Men and Society Folk Well Represent-ed-John Caswell's Good Shooting.

The members of the aristocratic Country Club of West Chester have apparently managed to get all the enjoyment possible out of the dances, cotillons, tens, and what not, there has carcely been any intermission. Yesterday there was a pigeon shoot on the club grounds just back of the club's beautiful colonial home on the borders of the Sound. Society was well epresented as is usual at all of the Country Club's functions, and as for the shocters, some represented as is usual at all of the Country Club's functions, and as for the shocters, some of the best of the amateur wing shots in the country took part.

Among the more prominent of the competitors were such cracks as Edgar G. Murphy. E. C. Potter, Jordan Is. Mott. Jr., John Caswell, Arthur Duane, N. D. Thorne, and P. H. Ades. There were such a large number of entries that only three regular events were shot, instend of four, as is usual. The birds were a good lof and gave the club men some trouble, but the scores as a rule were unusually good. Young John Caswell, of Harvard furnished the surprise of the day by winning the cup event with a score of seventeen kills from such old hands as Edgar Murphy and Arthur Duane. The first event, a handicap sweepstakes, miss and out, was divided between John Caswell and T. A. Havermeyer, Jr., Young Caswell took the second event with a score of seventeen kills and one miss, and captured a vory pretty cup for his skill. The third event was divided between Edgar G. Murphy and P. H. Adee. Mr. Caswell aiso captured a number of the preliminary sweeps and went away very well satisfied with his day's work.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bronson, Mrs. Roche, Miss Hope Goddard, Mrs. William House, Mr. Brons Cushing, Mr. and Mrs. Borden Harriman, Mr. and Mrs. William Butler Duncau, Mr. and Mrs. George B. de Forest, Miss William, Mr. Barton Willing, Miss Martha Costor, Mr. F. Dorrier's opponent was a well-known rifeman of this city, and his score was but a few points of.

Having been thoroughly renovated during the forences, the quintet of traps worked to perfection, and as there was little if any wind to interfere with the flights of the clay targets, excellent scores were shot. A SNUG HOME FOR BROOKLYN TURNERS To Cost About $35,000, and Will Maye

Eleven years ago last September the Brookvn Turn Verein, at present one of the influential members of the Long Island District of the North American Turner Bund, was organized by John Brune, George Dietrick, Frederick W. Piper, and other members of the Brooklyn ters in the old fashloned frame building o Court street, opposite Wyckoff street, and here they remained until a year ago, when the members demanded a better home. The officials were empowered to select a site for a new club house, and in the mean time the organization took up quarters at Saengerbund Hall, at Smith and Schermerhorn streets. Several available places have been offered the Brooklyn Turners for a permanent home. At one time negotiations were closed for the Dean street, but a majority of the members objected to the location, and they were compelled to look elsewhere. Finally two old private residences on the north side of Atlantic avenue, near Hoyt street, were bought for $14,000, and the entire matter of reconstructing the old buildings into a well-appointed club house was at once placed in the hands of Charles F. Elsenach.

The Brooklyn Turners expect to have a home second to none of the kind on Long Island. When fully completed the expenses will foot up to nearly $35,000. Even now a complete transformation has taken place in the outward appearance of the two old properties, which have a frontage of fifty feet and a depth of ninety feet. The brick walls which were left standing have been trimmed off with galvanized iron, and when painted will be very attractive. The interiors of the buildings have been rebuilt from top to bottom.

The main entrance to Turn Halle, the name of the new building, will be up a short flight of brown-stone steps to a hall 8 feet wide. On the left of the hall will be a spacious committee room, and on the right a nicely fitted up café, 24 by 35 feet. The rear of the entire building will be taken up with a hall, which will be used as a gymnasium and for entertainments of all kinds. A gallery 50 by 10 feet will run along the rear of the hall. The gymnasium will be fitted with all modern apparatus, which can readily be removed upon occasions of entertainments. Upon the easiern side of the second floor will be a lodge room. 24 by 30 feet, a small apartment connecting with this room and two antercoms. The building will be handsomely furnished. The other portion of the floor will be a lodge room. 24 by 30 feet, a small apartment connecting with this room and two antercoms. The building will be heated by steam and lighted by gas and electricity.

Jack Haggerty Matched to Swim Jim McConker.

Pittsburgh is deeply interested at present in swimming match that is soon to take place at the apacious Natatorium, a large building devoted to the furtherance of aquatic contests. The contestants are expected to be Jack Haggerty, champion short-distance swimmer of England, and James L. McCusker, the American champion. Manager Goodwyn of the Natatorium is in receipt of a letter from McCusker in which the latter states that he has been matched to swim Jack Haggerty for nas been matched to swim Jack Haggerty for $1,000 a side the following series of races: One hundred yards, one-eighth of a mile, one-quarter of a mile, one-half mile, and one mile. Mr. McCusker adds that he will have the races take place in Pittsburgh, providing the Nata-torium management will give the contestants torium management will give the contestants $500 and expenses.

When Mr. Goodwyn was seen regarding the proposition, he said; "Why, the proposition is absurd. Their match is doubtless a square one, as Haggerty cannot afford to be beaten in three of the five races. But they cannot expect a guarantee of $500 and expenses to swim at any place. We will do as well as anybody, and if they want to swim their races here I will give them a chance. I will give them and one-third of the gate receipts, and I will, in behalf of the building, take the other third and do all the advertising, &c. They cannot expect mere than this. I have written Mc-Casker to this effect."

Baseball Magnates to Try Bicycling. PITTSEURGH. Dec. 31.-President Buckenberger said to-day that there is a movement on foot to arrange a bicycle league in connec-tion with the twelve-club Baseball League, and that the local team is figuring on a bicy-cle track here, even as Yon der Ahe has ar-ranged for one in his St. Louis grounds. From another source it was learned that the object of the move is to have a bicycle track at each baseball park in the League, and have bicycle race meetings take place during the entire baseball season and the absence of the home team.

NEW JERSEY ICE YACHTS. Not Enough Wind for Racing-Talk of the World's Pennant Race.

RED BANK, Doc. 31.-Strangers began oming into town early this morning, and the river was covered with skaters again to-day. everal large parties came about noon. One party was from Tottenville, Staten Island, another from Long Branch. All the forenoon the ice yachts were flying about, but the wind fell a little after noon, and it was impossible to have a race. It was a disappointment, for many had come to see a race that was advertised for to-day. It was a race for the first-class challenge pen-nant of the Shrewabury Club. It has been held for a number of years by Pierrepont and Sanger's Dreadnaught, and yesterday a challenge was received by the holder from Capt. George Coley, whose yacht was until yesterday called Ben Harrison, but is now the Rocket. During the week only second and third class ynchts have raced and second and third class ynchis have raced and there was lots of interest in this contest, as the winners would be sure to be sent up the Hudson to race for the world's pennant.

A letter was received from Secretary Chambers of the Orange Lake Club to-day, in which he claims to be surprised at the fixing of the Yan Nostrand cuprace for Monday. The Orange Lake Club seem to be entirely ignorant of the conditions of the deed of gift governing this trophy. One clause reads as follows: "The club holding the cup shall notify the challenging club by telegram when the ice is of sufficient thickness, and the challenging yacht or yachts shall upon receipt of such notice be at once transported to the course and kept there in readiness until in the judgment of the legatta Committee of the club holding the cup the conditions are favorable for the sailing of a fair race. Failure to produce and maintain the yachts in readiness shall forfelt the right to a match on the part of the challenging club." The Shrewsbury Club want a race, and have

The Shrewsbury Club want a race, and have proceeded according to rule, and if the Orange Lake Club send boats here, and they don't get here on time, no doubt the race would be postponed, but they should at least make an effort to get here. It has been stated here that there is a doubt as to whether there will be a race, and it has been said that it would be doubtful if the Hudson River clubs would come here to get a raturn race for the world's rennant in the event of it being won by a Shrewsbury yacht.

Fred Randall, a piano plate maker who is visiting Richard Borden at Little Silver, has got the ice-vacht fever had, and to-day bought the lee yacht Bella of Augustus Hairland. Some one suggested to Mr. Randall that the Bella, heing a cockpit boat, would not be comfortable to take ladies out in. Mr. Randall then looked about and bought another yacht from Mr. Charles Curtis, the Glide. Mr. Randall that the belia is a second-class yacht and the Glide third class. Messrs, John and Richard Borden, who were with Mr. Randall, both ordered Mr. Havliand to build an ice yacht, to be ready for next winter. The race which was to have taken lace to day was declared off and the yachts ordered to be on the starting line at 10 o'clock Monday morning. The race, if the ice is good, will be an interesting one, as all the club boats will start, each racing for the club pennant of its class.

ONLY JONAHS IN NAME.

Yorkville's Crack Bowling Club Rolling Up Although there are more than 100 bowling clubs in Yorkvillo, few crack bowlers can be found among them. Only two clubs have competed against the crack clubs of the lower part of the city and Harlem district. It is their rule not to receive or issue challenges to any club outside of their class. One of the strongest organizations in Yorkville is the Jonah Bowling Club. A year ago Boehm, Ed Goodman, P. Miller, and M. Wolf decided to start a bowling club to represent Yorkville in one of the leading tournaments. At that time many of the Yorkville clubs were not doing as well as outside apclubs were not doing as well as outside appearances showed. Several of the prominent clubs were about going to pieces. On bowling nights the members wrangled among themselves and resignations were frequent. A majority of these members joined the new club. The naming of the organization was left to Boehm, and he decided that as the membership was composed of cast-off members from other clubs, they would undoubtedly be Jonahs, and therefore that name was adopted. In a short time the club became prominent, and in the few match games played they always won.

adopted. In a short time the club became prominent, and in the few match games played they always won.

Soon after the formation of the club they were entered as a competitor in the Academy tournament, and although they were pitted against the strongest clubs in this city they managed to win four games. Of last season's team only three men remain, Goodman, Boehm, and Miler. The Toplitz brothers were replaced by Arthur Zinn and Joe Davis. Zinn never belonged to a club before, but from the manner in which he smashes the head pin it can easily be seen that he is not a novice. Davis was a member of the Grips, now competing in the American Amateur Bowling Union. He displays good skill and usually rolls up high scores. Capt. Boehm seems to improve with every game. Poer health has handicapped Boehm to a certain extent this season. Boehm's first effort at bowling was with the Utopla Bowling Club. He afterward joined the Rossmore and Halcyon clubs, and was considered their star bowler. Boehm is also President of the Academy tournament. Goodman and Miller also roll on the Jonah team. Both have been doing good work.

The Jonahs bowl every Wednesday night at the Manhattan House allers. They have twenty members are not be team. In lien Davison, Ben Lehman, Louis Schiff, and Morris Mandell the club has a quartet of able substitutes. They are thus able to prosent a good five should one or more of the regular team fail to appear. In this season's Academy tournament the Jonahs have rolled eight games, of which they have won five. Their most notable victory was over the strong Orchard team.

The Jonahs have made a prominent feature of "loudies incitis". The young women show

The Jonahs have made a prominent feature of "ladies nights." The young women show good skill in rolling. Miss Zinn and the Misses Lottle and Tillie Bick have carried off the honors thus far.

Set Out to Buy Christmas Presents and Did Not Return.

Nothing has since been seen or heard of him by them. When Mrs. Brown reported his disappearance to the police yesterday she said he had always been of stendy habits and was devoted to his family. She feared he had met with foul play, as he had a good deal of money with him. A general slarm was sent out for the missing man.

W. E. D. Stokes watched the proceedings in caurt before his case was called with considerable curiosity.

"This is the second time in my life that I have been in this place," he said in the Sergeant's room. "The first time was about twenty years ago. On that occasion when I entered I heard the strokes of carpenters' hammers. They were at work erecting a gallows. I had come in the interest of a murderer. I came to tell my cousin that a stay had been granted in his case."

Mr. Stokes was inclined to talk further, but his counsel interfered, and thereafter he would say nothing. There were three complaints against Mr. Stokes, two individually and one jointly with Mr. Martin. The proceedings took place in the Judge's private room. The defendants had nothing to say resarding the charges against them. They waived examination and were held for the Grand Jury. In Martin's case ball was fixed at $1,000 and was furnished by Jacob Lawson. Stokes's ball altogether amounted to $2,000. His brothers went his bond.

In the first complaint F. S. Stokes alleged that on June 30 W. E. D. Stokes and W. H. Martin wrote a false, scandaious, and libellous writing in the shape of a letter for publication, in which they accused Edward S. Stokes of causing the alteration of the accounts and misappropriating the funds of the Hoffman House corporation, of which he was President. The second complaint was against W. E. D. Stokes, and was based on a letter written by him and published on Nov. 5. The third complaint against Mr. Stokes holds him responsible for interviews printed in newspapers and for an article that appeared in a newspaper on Dec. 28, which "tended to injure the complaintant's pusiness and to hold him up to contempt, ridicule, and obliquy."

William R. Martin is a lawyer, 55 years old, and lives at 260 West Seventy-third street. He is a stockholder in the Hoffman House corporation. VAN TASSELL & KEARNEY, ESTABLISHED 1867.

missals have been made under it, and employees who at first were inclined to regard it in the light of a temperance sermon are beginning to see that the company means business. Heads of departments are expected to make up a list of men under them who are in any way addicted to drink. In employing new men preference is to be given to total abstainers, and in case of a man being discharged for violating the order reinstatement will be almost impossible. LONG ISLAND TO MAKE OUR GAS.

A Syndicate Proposes to Light This Town from a Mammoth Plant at Ravenswood. An important cas deal was consummated yesterday when John Dovlin, the President of the Equity Gaslight Company of Williamsburgh, and George Wren, the secretary, turned over to a syndicate of wealthy capitalists of this city the headquarters of the company at 204 Broadway, Williamsburgh. The transfer took place in the office of Benjamin I. H. Trask, in the Boreel building.

Peculiar and important privileges were granted by the Legislature to the Equity Gaslight Company about nineteen years ago. The grants were fought in many courts by rivals of the concern. Two years ago the Attorney-General of the State directed that all the suits against the company be discontinued, thus making the company's franchise valuable. The company contracted with the Equity Gas Works Construction Company of New Jersey to build its plant and lay mains. The large works in Maspeth avenue, near Newtown large works in Maspeth avenue, near Newtown Croek, Williamsturgh, are nearly completed, and many miles of mains are laid in the Eastern District of Brooklyn. About a week go negotiations were opened for the purchase of a controlling interest in the company by the New York syndicate. It is said that $300,000 was paid yesterday for control of the voting stock by Mr. Trask and his associates. It was also said that more than $400,000 was paid to the construction company for its contracts with the Eastry Gaslight Company.

A gentleman connected with the new syndicate told a Sux reporter has evening that the reports in circulation that the company was purchased for the purpose of consolidating it with other gas light companies in Brooklyn were not true. He also made this startling studement:

Some of the members of the new syndicate "Some of the members of the new forces an immense plant at liavenswood. I. I. and tunnel the East lilver, so as to supply the whole of Manhattan Island with gas. This will do away with the alleg shartsances made by the present New York gastlift companies. It will also reclaim land now occupied by the New York gastlind and to yit to be used for less objectionally purposes." rectionable purposes."

It was learned elsewhere that the promoters of the scheme intend to furnish the whole of Brooklyn with mas, and that they will try, with the aid of political influence, to dominate mentire supply of gas in New York and adjacent places.

The Game to Old, but It Works.

A well-dressed man called at the grocery store of Charles Lafferine, at 604 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, on Friday afternoon, and, selecting 51.70 worth of groceries, ordered them to be sent to the third floor of the apartment house at 185 Classon avenue, together with flouse at 185 Classon avenue, together with change for $10. When the messonger arrived at the Classon avenue house with the groceries and the change he whistled up the tube connecting with the third floor and was told by some person up there to put the bundle and change on the elevator and that he would send down the $10 bill. The boy followed the directions, but after waiting for some time without noticing any movement of the elevator he went up stairs and discovered that the floor was vacant.
